

Evolvulus Blue My Mind® Heavenly Glory

This plant will truly blow your mind with its true blue consistent flowering. It is perfect to use as a ground cover in the garden or in containers where it will form a mounding mat of blue flowers. Its leaves are silvery – green in colour and have a slight “fuzzy” feel to them.

Blue my Mind® loves hot weather in fact the hotter the better. It will perform best in a full sun position and is drought tolerant once established. However take note; as much as it loves the heat Evolvulus Blue my Mind® needs to be protected from even light frost.

Be sure to water your Evolvulus well for several weeks during root establishment. While the plants can withstand drought conditions, growth and flowering are better with consistent moisture. A good dose of compost or slow release fertilizer will improve performance.

Blue is a wonderful cooling colour to have in a garden and with its long flowering period and no need for deadheading this plant is a maintenance free “Blow your mind ” must have!
